Day 3: Jaipur - Delhi

Start your morning exploring the beauty of Jaipur. A visit to Panna Meena ka Kund Amber Fort, Jal Mahal, City Palace, Hawa Mahal and the Jantar Mantar would take time to view the city walls and ornate city gates.

- Panna Mian ka Kund (Stepwell): Panna Mian Ka Kund also known as Panna Meena Ka Kund near Amber Fort in Jaipur is a hidden gem straight out of a fairytale! This ancient stepwell isn't just about water; it's a work of art with its intricate carvings and colourful steps leading down 200 metres to a cool, refreshing pool.

Drown into the immense beauty of Amer Fort, one of the must-visit magnificent monuments.

- Amer Fort: It is an old fort, built-in the 16th century by Raja Man Singh, amidst the hills and overlooking the Maota Lake, Amer Palace is one of the finest examples of Indo-Islamic architecture.

On the return from Amer fort, we would halt to view the Jal Mahal, the water palace.

- Jal Mahal: Jal Mahal is a huge palace in the middle of the Man Sagar Lake, in the city of Jaipur. It was constructed from pink sandstone and follows the royal and classical Rajputana symmetry.

- City Palace: The palace was constructed under the order of Maharaja Sawai Jai Singh II. The city palace is the centre of attraction of Jaipur and it reflects the fusion of Mughal and Rajput architecture.

- Hawa Mahal: It is popularly known as the "Palace of winds" this five-story building was built in 1799 by Maharaja Sawai Pratap Singh. This palace is decorated with 953 windows or "Jharokhas" which are adorned with intricate designs.

- Jantar Mantar: The world's largest sundial is located at Jantar Mantar. Considering the heritage that it holds, it is one of the largest observatories in the world. Henceforth, Jantar Mantar is listed in UNESCO's world heritage sites.
